Experts Probe Charred Debris Of Todd's Plane

Showman's Body To Be Cremated; Memorial Services Set Tomorrow

GRANTS, N. M. (AP)—Experts probed grim bits of wreckage Sunday to determine whether it was ice conditions which sent famed producer Mike Todd's plane plunging to earth, killing him and three others.

The twin-engine airplane crashed with terrific force in the Zuni Mountains of western New Mexico early Saturday, not long after the pilot had climbed to escape heavy icing conditions.

Positive identification of Todd among the victims was announced Sunday by a mortuary in Albuquerque. The mortuary said there was no question about the identification, based on dental examination.

Borne to fiery deaths in the crash and subsequent explosion and fire along with the 50-year-old producer were movie writer Art Cohn, 49; pilot Bill Verner, 45, and copilot Tom Barclay, 34.

Several investigators for the Civil Aeronautics Administration and Civil Aeronautics Board went to the scene about 22 miles southwest of Grants early Sunday to search for clues.

Common opinion among flying circles was that ice forming on the wings and fuselage had caused the crash.

The plane, named "The Lucky Liz" for Todd's actress wife, Elizabeth Taylor, crashed 10 to 12 miles short of the place it should have reached by that time. It was exactly on course, according to CAA sources, giving weight to the theory that ice had slowed its progress.

The victims' bodies were taken to Albuquerque. Todd's son, Mike Jr., said his father's body would be cremated and that memorial services would be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Lake Zurich, a suburb of Chicago.

The services will be at Jewish Waldheim Cemetery, where his father was buried.

In Hollywood it was announced Monday night for Chicago, accompanied by her brother, Howard Taylor; Richard Hanley, Todd's executive secretary, and her physician, Dr. Rector Kennamer.

She had recovered sufficiently Sunday to begin reading hundreds of telegrams from all sections of the country, offering condolences. One telegram from Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower said, "The President and I extend our deepest sympathy."

Navy, Air Force Swap Atom Sub, Space Ship Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy and the Air Force are swapping information about nuclear submarines and space ships.

A spokesman for the Air Force surgeon general's office said Sunday that many of the conditions under which nuclear crews live are almost identical with those foreseen for space travelers.

He said an interchange of information on studies made by Navy nuclear submarine medicine specialists and Air Force space medicine specialists has been established.

The Navy started operating nuclear submarines almost three years ago, when the Nautilus was delivered. Recently this reporter lived for a week aboard the nuclear submarine Seawolf, operating submerged in the North Atlantic except for brief intervals of surfacing for reconnaissance or communication.

One of the features of a nuclear submarine is its ability to operate under water for days and weeks. Because its nuclear power plant uses no oxygen, the only air required is for the crew. Thus, the A-sub pretty much provides its own atmosphere. This is precisely the condition under which the space ship will travel.

The two vehicles—the present submarine and the future space ship—have another common factor: confinement. Crews must live for days or months in a cramped, completely isolated environment.

Of prime concern to space travel planners is the behavior of nuclear submariners, their psychology, their reactions in a little subminiature world where there is no day or night and electronic gadgets govern life.

If the crew of the Seawolf is an index, there should be no "cabin fever" problems aboard a space ship. Life aboard the Seawolf rolled along as routinely as on a destroyer, far less hectic than the claustrophobic existence on an aircraft carrier.

Japanese Alarmed

TOKYO (AP)—The Central Meteorological Board said Sunday radioactivity in the air over Japan is increasing at an alarming rate. Board officials said atmospheric radioactivity is twice the intensity of that recorded about the same time last year and 10 to 20 times the amount registered on its instruments in 1955.

A board spokesman attributed the increase in radioactivity to recent nuclear tests in the Soviet Union.

Rich Oil Area Falls To Indo Commandos

Airfield And Two Towns In Central Sumatra Seized

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian government commandos seized two towns and an airfield in the rich oil area of Rengat in rebellious Central Sumatra, the army said Sunday.

The areas are sites of operations for the big U. S. Stanvac Oil Co. and contain the last major oil installations in the eastern side of Sumatra that were not in government hands.

They lie about 100 miles southeast of Pekanbaru, center of the U. S. Caltex Oil Co. operation recaptured from the rebels 11 days ago. The rebel regime of Central Sumatra had counted heavily on oil revenues to finance the fight against the government.

The army announcement said the towns of Lirik and Airmolek and the airfield at Camp Djapur were taken Saturday. It said Americans and other foreigners in the Stanvac fields were evacuated between March 19 and 21 to Palembang, capital of neutral South Sumatra and headquarters for Stanvac's Sumatran operations.

Most of Stanvac is situated in South Sumatra.

Jakarta troops took Pekanbaru March 12, as well as the pipelines and the water route leading out of that Central Sumatran city to the east coast. The rebels claimed last week they had started a guerrilla counterattack to push government troops out of there.

An army spokesman, Lt. Col. Rudy Pirgadigie, said the commandos suffered no casualties. No mention was made of rebel casualties, if any.

On another front, Lt. Col. Siamun Gaharu, military commander in restless Atjeh Province in the Indonesian military command of North Sumatra that Atjeh will not be used as a base for rebel operations.

Atjeh Province, home of 150,000 warlike Chinese Moslems, has been reported to be preparing to join in the fight against the Jakarta government. Atjeh is north of the key government port of Medan in North Sumatra.

British-Soviet Talks Urged By Beaverbrook

LONDON (AP)—Lord Beaverbrook, Sir Winston Churchill's old friend, urged Prime Minister Macmillan Sunday to meet at the summit with Soviet leaders at once, with or without President Eisenhower.

"The Prime Minister may persuade the American President to travel with him to a meeting place with the men of Moscow, but if the American government resists, then Mr. Macmillan should go East and speak for the British empire," Beaverbrook said.

"If, as a result of negotiations with (Soviet Communist party chief) Khrushchev Mr. Macmillan brings home the bacon, then he can ask President Eisenhower to sit down with him and take part in the feast."

Lord Beaverbrook set forth his views in a signed article in his Sunday Express.

"Peace at almost any price must be the watchword in this office," wrote the 78-year-old dynamic publisher who is a powerful figure in British politics. The hustling minister of aircraft production in Churchill's wartime Cabinet, Beaverbrook always has been one of the United States' staunchest friends in Britain.

Capital Tries To Outguess Cherry Blossoms, Loses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Br-r-r. It's cold outside and there's a dollop of snow on the ground. But Washington is getting ready for another Cherry Blossom Festival this week.

They've been holding these springtime spectaculars since 1912 when Mrs. William Howard Taft planted the first cherry sprig gift from Japan along the tidal basin of the Potomac River.

In years past the festival folk have usually been a bit off in correlating the arrival of the festival with the opening of the pink and white blossoms. Invariably the petals would pop out early.

Last year, after an especially warm pre-Easter spell, officials decided to move up the date. So what happens? Washington gets an eight-inch snowfall last week and a blossomy festival this week.

Despite the inclemency of it all, the attendant events are expected to draw upwards of half a million persons.

It'll all come to a glittering climax Friday night when Mrs. Richard M. Nixon spins a big wheel to select the festival queen from among 53 princesses representing the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Guam, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The romantic flavor of the springtime rites sometimes snatches up the cast as well as the public. In 1951 the New York City princess complained that the escort assigned her for the festivities was too short. So she was given a taller guy—who later became her husband.

Body Of Missing W.Va. Boy Found Near His Home

GALLIPOLIS FERRY, W. Va. (AP)—The search for 5-year-old John Wayne McKinney, who disappeared six days ago, ended Sunday with the finding of his body two miles from his farm tenant home.

Joe Yester, a farmer accompanied by his 4-year-old daughter and going over ground already traversed by hundreds of searchers in the intense hunt for the child, discovered the body in a pasture.

Coroner Oliver Eshenaur said that his investigation showed death was due to exposure and that "there was no evidence whatsoever of foul play."

An autopsy performed at Holzer Hospital, Gallipolis, Ohio, by Dr. Robert Carson helped verify the coroner's ruling. Dr. Eshenaur said. The autopsy report said the child had been dead for several days.

The body, clothed in T-shirt, an outer shirt and coveralls, was lying in the open, Harshbarger said, but the blond child's shoes were missing.

John Wayne, son of a tenant on the 1,200-acre Rolfe Lee dairy farm, had disappeared last Monday mid-afternoon.

Paul McKinney, 33-year-old father of the boy, made the identification.

Since the disappearance, volunteers estimated to number as many as 1,000 at times literally had covered the ground foot-by-foot within a 10-mile radius of the boy's home, but had found no trace of the youngster.

President Back In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to Washington Sunday after a weekend of golf and sunshine at Augusta, Ga.

The President's plane, Columbine III, landed at Washington National Airport at 6:29 p. m. EST. It left Augusta at 4:38 p. m. Eisenhower started an 18-hole round about noon after a late and leisurely breakfast at his cottage near the 10th tee at the Augusta National Golf Club.

It was a peaceful Sunday morning with only a few golfers touring the famed course which two weeks from now, on Easter Sunday, will be crowded with spectators on hand for the climax of the annual Masters tournament.

If the President follows the pattern of other years, he will be back here on Monday or Tuesday of that week for the longer visit he makes to the Augusta National each April. But the White House says no decision has been made yet about such a visit.

Film Producer Dies

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Don Hartman, 57, top Hollywood producer and one of the motion picture industry's most versatile men, died in his sleep of a heart attack Saturday night.

His death was discovered shortly after midnight in the desert vacation home he went to last week, complaining of feeling ill. Hartman, a onetime performer on the Catskill Mountains "Borscht circuit," was an actor, gag writer, song writer, screenwriter and director before becoming head of production at Paramount Pictures Corp. He left that post two years ago to set up his own producing unit.

Churchill Improves From Recurrence Of Former Illness

ROQUEBRUNE, France (AP)—A slight congestion of the lungs has put Sir Winston Churchill back into his sick bed but he was reported better Sunday night. He had pneumonia and pleurisy last month.

Dr. David Roberts said only that the 83-year-old former British Prime Minister was suffering "a slight recurrence of a former illness."

"Things are as we want them to be and we are not worried at the moment," added the Riviera physician.

A source in the Churchill vacation household said Churchill is suffering a slight lung congestion and has been in bed the last two days.

Tunisia Plans New U. N. Plea If France Balks

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba said Sunday he will appeal again to the United Nations if France turns down the settlement proposals submitted by British-American good offices negotiators.

"We have done everything possible to meet the French more than half way," he said. "We can make no further concessions."

Bourguiba spoke with a CBS correspondent, David Schoenbrun, at Bourguiba's boyhood home in Southern Tunisia.

The Tunisian press and some other political figures displayed skepticism over efforts by U. S. Dep. Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy and the British diplomat Harold Beeley to untangle the French-Tunisian dispute and get the two nations to negotiating directly again.

Murphy and Beeley are to meet in Paris Tuesday with French Premier Felix Gaillard. Gaillard is being pressed by rightist politicians in France to take a tough line. The Premier apparently will try to keep the negotiations going until the end of the week, when adjournment of the French National Assembly for a month's vacation should give him a freer hand for compromise.

Bourguiba and other Tunisians said they were encouraged by a telegram from U. S. Secretary of State Dulles praising the Tunisian President for his cooperation with the good offices mission. The President said he considered this public U. S. backing of his position.

Seven Locomotives Damaged In Fire

CHICAGO (AP)—Seven diesel locomotive engines, valued at more than a million dollars, were badly damaged Sunday in a fire in the Chicago Belt Line Railroad's suburban clearing yards.

The fire, of undetermined origin, spread so rapidly that workmen were unable to remove the engines and an unknown amount of fuel. Dep. Fire Marshal James Bailey said a stiff wind and low water pressure hampered efforts of firemen. The water pressure was supplied by the railroad pump house and the large number of hoses in use overloaded that facility.

No one was injured in the blaze.

Moore Made $188,000, House Prober Reports

WASHINGTON, March 23 (INS)—Rep. Peter Mack (D-Ill.) said today that Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower's brother-in-law has made $188,000 in the past five years making loans to airlines and trucking firms doing business with the government.

Mack said under the circumstances he "cannot believe it is the disadvantage to be Mrs. Eisenhower's brother-in-law" as Col. G. Gordon Moore claimed earlier this week.

The Illinois Democrat, a member of the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee probing federal agencies, said the group will want to question Moore again when it takes up the Civil Aeronautics Board cases.

"While we have found his testimony very interesting on the Miami TV license case, I am certain it will be even more interesting when we get around to the CAB," Mack said.

The House prober said it appeared to be "more than a coincidence" that the 54-year-old kin of the First Lady has prospered in air transport and other business since 1952.

Jack said subcommittee files show that Air Transit Service, Inc., entirely owned by Moore, has made $125,000 since 1953 by loaning money to companies hauling on government contracts. He said the firms borrow from Moore while awaiting payment from the government.

In addition, Mack said, a firm identified as "GBL" which finances trucking companies hauling household goods for servicemen yielded Moore $38,000 between 1953 and 1957 and Air Freight Clearings, Inc., a Moore-owned firm incorporated in 1952, netted him $5,000.

Moore testified last Monday that firms he underwrites do 85 per cent of their business with the government but he did not disclose the extent of his profits. He also asserted he had not personally contacted any regulatory agencies for at least three years.

Mack said subcommittee files show an airline to which Moore leases a plane for $3,000 a month operates under an exemption from the Civil Aeronautics Administration allowing it to carry passengers for hire.

Brothers, 12 And 10, Kill Grocer In Shooting Spree

WOODWARD, Okla. (AP)—Two brothers shot and killed a grocery store operator during a wild shooting spree in this quiet northwest Oklahoma town Sunday.

Police apprehended a 12-year-old boy in an abandoned cotton gin after firing round after round of tear gas into the building. His 10-year-old brother was apprehended later in the basement of the family home.

Sheriff Hank White said the boys were being held in the county jail for investigation. No charges have been filed.

Shot through the heart was Floyd Blair, 49, Woodward merchant. Critically wounded was his employee, Adrian Wilson, 22. A customer in Blair's small general store, Ed Kinney, 47, received a superficial flesh wound.

Sheriff White said the boys apparently left Sunday school and broke into another store where they stole four .22 caliber pistols.

Bridges Says He Would Bet On Reduction

Douglas And UAW Boss Stress Need For Prompt Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The idea of tax cuts to help cure the recession got added backing Sunday from five senators — three Republicans and two Democrats — and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers.

Seventeen members of the New York State Democratic delegation in the House said tax reform "is long overdue."

During this recessionary period it is not only a wise policy, they said, "it is required to restore health to the economy."

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, foresaw an administration decision on a tax cut within the next 60 days and said "If I had to bet, today, I'd bet we would have a tax reduction."

The need for prompt action was stressed by Reuther and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.).

Reuther said "the fire is in the basement" and "I propose to put it out in the basement before it spreads to the attic."

"When it gets to the attic," he added, "it will take much more equipment to put the fire out, if we're going to save the house."

"Dangerous To Wait

Douglas, who pictured a serious recession trembling on the edge of a depression," said it would be dangerous to wait and let nature take its course "because nature is not always beneficent."

He said he hoped to convince his colleagues in Congress that taxes should be cut "rather quickly."

Reuther, on another TV program CBS "Face the Nation," suggested tax cuts, with the greatest emphasis on low and middle income groups, plus extension of unemployment benefits and accelerated public works.

Exemption Boost Proposed

He proposed increasing personal tax exemptions from $600 to $700 to help provide "high velocity purchasing power" and that Congress give the President "standby authority" to initiate a withholding tax moratorium for 30, 60 or 90 days if the recession "gets more serious."

Bridges, a senior member of the Senate Appropriations and Armed Forces Committee, said on "Meet the Press" (NBC-TV) he didn't want any tax cut "which would mean a big deficit, but the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Johnson Hopes President Signs Farm Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Sunday President Eisenhower will be delivering "a crushing blow at agriculture" if he vetoes a farm price support freeze bill.

The measure, passed by House and Senate last week, would hold government price props and acreage allotments at about 1957 levels for another year. It was opposed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson and there have been widespread predictions Eisenhower will veto it.

Johnson told reporters a veto "would be a direct and unmistakable announcement that the administration intends to force farm prices down ever lower than they are now."

"I hope the President will not strike this blow at the American farmer," he said. "Agriculture cannot take many more jolts."

Benson has contended that continuing present price support levels will merely mean the building up again of huge crop surpluses similar to those which the government has spent billions of dollars trying to dispose of in recent years.

Johnson, who contends the freeze measure is necessary to assure farmers that their prices will go no lower in a period of economic recession, said that since 1952—the last year of the Truman administration—farm prices have gone down 16 per cent and farm income has slumped 20 per cent.

He said that during this same period, corporate profits had increased 14 per cent, average weekly industrial wages 21 per cent and the gross national product had increased 26 per cent. The gross national product is the total output of all goods and services.

Heroic Island Nurse Gets Aid In Flu Epidemic Fight

OCRACOKE, N. C. — Mrs. Kathleen Bragg, Ocracoke Island's lone public health nurse, had help at least briefly Sunday in her battle against the vicious virus-flu that has hit 60 per cent of the island's 400 to 500 residents.

A doctor arrived by boat early Sunday to spend the day visiting patients stricken in the epidemic that knocked over family after family.

"They just go down. Lots of times, one member of a family can get up before the last one goes down. Otherwise the neighbors help," Mrs. Bragg said.

"They kept the school open up to Friday but they kept dropping out and dropping out 'till there wasn't anybody there."

Mrs. Bragg, a registered nurse, is this isolated little fishing community's only medically trained resident. She herself caught the flu shortly after it broke out 10 days ago and hasn't been able to leave her house since Monday.

"I went just as long as I could go. Then I started contacting people by phone and sent their medicine by messengers. I have a practical nurse here and she's been giving shots to the worst ones."

Most of the tough islanders battled the sickness with just the help of aspirin and cough medicine. Mrs. Bragg said her patients complained of temperatures up to 105 degrees, nausea, cramps and aches in their backs, arms and legs.

Dr. J. W. R. Norton, state health officer at Raleigh, ordered drugs rushed to Ocracoke by Coast Guard helicopter from Beaufort.

Thousands Still Without Power, Phone Service

BALTIMORE — A Sabbath benediction of spring sunshine warmed Maryland and the hearts of its winter-weary people today. Temperatures that climbed into the 50s in some areas Saturday continued to soar to heights befitting the four-day old spring season.

But the effects of the heavy, wet snow that fell last Wednesday and Thursday continued very acute to many thousands still without electricity and telephone service.

The boxscore of people without those conveniences and crewmen out on the widespread repair effort looked like this:

Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. reported about two-thirds of the estimated 150,000 customers deprived of electricity had been linked back into its system.

A crew of 2,200 men including some from Virginia, Pennsylvania and North Carolina, were working through the weekend to patch up service.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. said another 25,000 telephones had been put back in service with an estimated 37,000 still out in Maryland.

The utility's 3,000 man force was supplemented by 350 called in from Washington, D. C., Virginia, and West Virginia.

In addition to thousands of homes in the Baltimore area without electricity, points to the northeast and the Eastern Shore were still isolated.

All of Kent County was still without electrical power.

At last report, power had been partially restored at Aberdeen and Havre de Grace. Both had been blacked out entirely in the wake of the midweek storm.

Phone lines were restored in two-thirds of Kent County.

Meanwhile, the 2nd Army chipped in with six helicopters flown from Ft. Eustis, Va. These mobile aircraft were put to use in areas of Maryland and Pennsylvania to spot power line breaks.

New Explorer Launching Try Due This Week

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — An Army attempt to launch another Explorer satellite with its four-stage Jupiter-C rocket is in prospect this week.

Newsman touring the missile test center last week were shown the Jupiter-C launching tower with the Redstone first-stage rocket already in position. They were told the launching preparations were fairly well advanced.

A timetable observation by Army Secretary Brucker indicated the firing would take place this week.

The Army launched Explorer I Jan. 31. Another Jupiter-C launching March 5 attained an altitude of about 300 miles but the satellite aboard failed to achieve orbital speed and fell back to earth.

Dag Has No Comment On Moscow Arrival

MOSCOW — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld arrived in Moscow Sunday night for talks presumably aimed at easing the East-West deadlock on disarmament.

It also appeared likely he will discuss with top Soviet leaders the prospects of a summit conference.

But Hammarskjöld, on his arrival at Moscow airport, said only: "I have no comment."

He is expected to stay until Thursday.

Dr. Kato To Stay On Tangier Isle Another Year

TANGIER ISLAND, Va. — Dr. Mikio Kato of Kobe, Japan, has decided to serve at least another year as physician for this five-mile finger of land in Chesapeake Bay.

Prayers of thanksgiving were offered Sunday at the island's only church after the boyish-looking, 34-year-old physician said he would remain another year and indicated he might stay permanently.

Dr. Kato came to the island of 1,100-inhabitants in April of 1957, in an 8,000-mile, five-day journey from his homeland.

He was secured to care for the health of the islanders after a search of almost three years by the Virginia Council on Health and Medical Care. He agreed at the time to stay one year.

Dr. Kato's decision to stay, long awaited by the residents, was announced Saturday by Leland Wheatley, treasurer of the island's Board of Health Directors.

"We are very happy," said Wheatley.

"I am happy also," said Dr. Kato. "The folks here are wonderful."

Trud Denounces American Exhibit On Soviet Union

MOSCOW — The newspaper Trud said Sunday that an American exhibit on the Soviet Union in the Union Station at Washington, D.C. is a provocation against the Soviet government.

"The exhibit, entitled 'Soviet Empire 1917-1958,' depicts pictorially Communist expansion in the last 40 years. It was organized by the AFL-CIO jointly with the Assembly of Captive European Nations, an international organization composed of exiles from nine European nations oppressed by the Soviet Union during and after World War II. It was opened March 21 by members of Congress and George Meany, AFL-CIO president."

Trud charged the organizers of the exhibition were trying to minimize the good impression the Soviet Union has been making on the world. Trud said the "growth of sympathy for the Soviet Union among ordinary Americans probably frightened the ruling circles of the United States."

Trud said that "perhaps the organizers feared their exhibit would not attract a large audience so found there."

Trud Denounces American Exhibit On Soviet Union

MOSCOW — The newspaper Trud said Sunday that an American exhibit on the Soviet Union in the Union Station at Washington, D.C. is a provocation against the Soviet government.

"The exhibit, entitled 'Soviet Empire 1917-1958,' depicts pictorially Communist expansion in the last 40 years. It was organized by the AFL-CIO jointly with the Assembly of Captive European Nations, an international organization composed of exiles from nine European nations oppressed by the Soviet Union during and after World War II. It was opened March 21 by members of Congress and George Meany, AFL-CIO president."

Trud charged the organizers of the exhibition were trying to minimize the good impression the Soviet Union has been making on the world. Trud said the "growth of sympathy for the Soviet Union among ordinary Americans probably frightened the ruling circles of the United States."

Trud said that "perhaps the organizers feared their exhibit would not attract a large audience so found there."

Today's Sermonette

Today's Sermonette is a digest of a sermon by Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

"Come now, let us reason together says the Lord. . . ." Isaiah 1:18.

The Reasonableness Of God

By REV. KENNETH W. GROVE

This is an age that prides itself upon its intellectual achievements, that gains satisfaction from the great strides that have been made in those areas of mental and physical development that speak to a promise of a golden age yet to come in which man shall be "truly" liberated from drudgery and the monotony of day by day labors. To such an age the words of the prophet seem like a vain plea in the face of such promised achievement. However, if we honestly and sincerely face life in our world today, we must all admit that while we have achieved in many fields of endeavor, in the one most vital to our real security we are seriously lagging—the area of human relationships and divine-human relationships. And in this area we must not fail to heed the words of the prophet, "Come now, let us reason together . . ."

As we make a quick survey we must admit that little has been changed in the area of human relationships and human-divine encounters except a change in time and place. Our needs are the same now as they were in the day of the prophet, in the day of Jesus, in the day of the so-called great revival. We need to come, ourselves in first-hand experience, to the Lord and discover not only how reasonable He is, but how reasonable is His plan and program for the affairs of life.

If we fail to find and know God it may be that the emphasis of the words of Isaiah following the gracious invitation to reason together may well be a question we need to ask ourselves "though your sins are like scarlet, shall they be white as snow; though they are red like crimson, shall they be like wool?" For without God and our ability to discover His mind and will toward us, there is no rhyme and reason to life. As the world equates your life and mine the meagre warmth of justice is oft something to shun. And when man stands alone there is no reason to justice, no need for mercy and love is a useless sentiment.

But God, aware of our nature, and our needs, sends to every age His wonderful invitation to "Come reason . . ." whether through the breadth of the Law, the invitation to a faithless people through His prophet, or the Life that perfectly portrays the depths of love and the scope of Mercy. For the reasoning of God discovers (1) worth in human personality. Worth enough that He permitted His only begotten Son to die in humanity's stead; (2) In the reasoning of God there is a plan, divinely conceived, humanly wrought that will make it possible for the Kingdom to come upon earth as it is in heaven. Unless it does, it will not come anywhere in the reasoning of God; (3) and finally the reasoning of God makes it possible for each one of us to achieve even beyond our reach or capacity to aspire. We would curse our fate and die. God loves us to life again. We hate our brethren to the point of death, but God breathes into us the warmth of mercy and we can once again believe in humanity and humanity's worth.

"Come now, let us reason together says the Lord; if you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land." This is the promise of God based upon His faith in us and His hope for us. The reasonableness of God—who can describe it—but through Jesus Christ His Son our Lord we can know it and be saved for eternity.

Habitual Felon Gets Life

WELCH (AP)—A McDowell County man was sentenced to life imprisonment Saturday in an unusual trial on habitual criminal charges here.

Charles Brooks, 29, of Davy was sentenced by Criminal Court Judge I. Mann Litz after a special jury found that Brooks had three times been convicted of felonies in Raleigh and McDowell counties.

Under the state's habitual criminal law, life imprisonment is automatic on three felony convictions.

Brooks had been convicted on a breaking and entering charge and sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary last March 7 here. At that time, Prosecutor Jack Marinari filed information that Brooks had been convicted of two other felonies, but counsel for Brooks contended his client was not the same person.

The court subsequently impaneled a special jury to hear arguments in the case.

Boy, Girl Students Are 'Desegregated'

SALEMBURG, N. C. (AP)—For the first time in 84 years, boys and girls at Pineland College-Edwards Military Institute may sit together in church, walk home from church together and eat with each other in the college cafeteria.

Authorities junked a rigid separation policy designed, since the schools' founding in 1874, to keep students of the high school and college level strictly apart.

College President Robert B. Isner said the administration believes that "mutual trust between faculty and students inspires in the students a sense of social responsibility."

Folsom Sees Passage Of Federal School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marion B. Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare, said Sunday that chances were "very good" for passage this year of a federal aid to education bill.

Interviewed on the ABC-TV program, "College News Conference" he said the national administration has not offered a school construction bill this year because it believes the aid measure is more important.

All six lots will then be sold as a unit and the School Board will accept the bid or bids yielding the largest amount.

Proceeds from the sale of these school properties will be used to pay for the remodeling of the front portion of the old Annex Building which will be converted into suitable School Board offices.

The Board expects to move into the new quarters about May 15.

KEYSER — The Green Mountain Archers of the Keyser area will start building a new field archery range this spring. The present range is located on the property of C. Arnold Ludwick, near the Keyser Airport. This land was donated several years ago by Ludwick.

The terrain, where the range is located, is the best and most suitable in this part of the country. The only drawback is that during the summer months it is used as a grazing area for cattle, and this necessitated the construction of barbed wire fences around each target.

The new range area is being surveyed near Route 46 about a quarter of a mile from the "Stop-In."

Payloader Removes Moorefield Snow

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — M. W. Bean, local business man, was responsible for the prompt removal of the snow from Main Street after the recent 12-inch fall.

State Road Commission plows left the snow piled four feet high along the curbs of Main Street.

Mr. Bean, owner of Bean's Lime and Stone Company and South Branch Motor Freight, donated a truck and driver and operated a payloader himself in removing all traces of the snow from Main Street within a day-and-a-half after the fall.

Besides his own truck he kept two of the town's trucks busy hauling the wet snow from the street.

West Virginia Seeks To Settle Va. Border

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—A movement is under way between the states of West Virginia and Virginia to determine finally where the boundary between the two states actually lies.

West Virginia created a commission last year to work on locating the border. The Virginia General Assembly recently directed the Governor to appoint a commission to try to arrange a peaceful meeting with the West Virginians to determine where one state stops and the other starts.

Each state has appropriated $2,500 to hire surveyors, buy map paper and other necessary purchases and there is a reasonable hope that the boundary will be drawn officially within a year or two.

The area in doubt is a few miles of the border between Allegheny County, Va., and Monroe County, W. Va. Specifically the line in question is a jog in the border near Sweet Chalybeate, Va., in the Fletcher's Knob region of the Allegheny Mountains.

There has been considerable dispute about the border between the two states ever since West Virginia seceded from Virginia in 1861 and was admitted to the Union as a separate state June 20, 1863. The border eventually was endorsed by the United States Geological Survey, drawn on the maps and accepted on faith by the outside world.

About 1940, the United States Forest Service surveyed the area and discovered what seemed to be about 1,000 acres of Virginia over in West Virginia. This border dispute has dragged on ever since until the past two years when the two state legislatures finally took positive action.

It is understood that no one lives in the disputed Fletcher's Knob sector but there are many trees, bear and deer. It contains valuable timber. The bear, deer and other game bring many hunters to the contested strip. Game wardens are having difficulty determining which state they are in and the courts seem uncertain which has jurisdiction in game law violations. It will be a relief to get the question settled, they say.

Firemen Mark Anniversary At Frostburg

80th Birthday Celebrated

FROSTBURG — A capacity crowd of firemen, their wives, and invited guests attended the 80th anniversary dinner of the Frostburg Fire Department, Friday evening, in the dining room of Salem United Church of Christ.

James S. Getty, state's attorney, was the master of ceremonies, introducing honored guests which included Mrs. J. Glenn Beall Sr., county commissioners and Frostburg Mayor and City Council.

The main speaker of the evening was J. Glenn Beall Jr., who traced the early history of the fire fighting companies pointing out that both the fire insurance companies, which he represents, were both organized the same year by Benjamin Franklin. He recounted many stories of the early fire companies especially how different groups would fight for the privilege of putting a fire out.

Welcoming remarks to the group were made by David Powell, president of the Frostburg Fire Department. Paul C. Haberlein chief of the local department, told of some of the accomplishments of the local group during the past year which meant a saving of property damage and in several instances the lives of local persons.

A dance was held on the third floor of the Firemen's Hall at the conclusion of the dinner.

Underground Bomb: Fears And Prospects

Carrying on the program of peaceful uses of nuclear power, scientists of the Atomic Energy Commission have hope of great results to come from continuing underground explosions.

The first explosion was in Nevada at the end of a tunnel under a 7,000-foot mountain. The blast had the force of 1,700 tons of TNT, which was one-tenth the power of the bomb used on Hiroshima in World War II. An estimated 500,000 tons of rock were crushed to sand and another 100,000 tons of rock caved in.

Carrying on from there, the scientists expect to conduct experiments in a way to free untold resources of petroleum and other minerals now impossible to reach. They expect to find geological formations in arid parts of the country, now impervious to water, that can be blasted and made porous. Then water, now running off, will seep into these formations. With water available, many deserts will bloom.

AEC spokesmen admit they will have to be careful because they do not know all of the consequences of underground explosions. But they are convinced that the process is easily controllable and that much greater blasts can be made safely. Some scientists suppose that blasts up to the equivalent of 170,000 tons of TNT are feasible.

But the boys should be careful. Man has enough fears, conscious and subconscious, about radiation in atmosphere without adding more about this so-solid-seeming earth under his feet.

A few years ago a book titled "Our Ravished Earth" called fearful attention to man's depredations on the outer crust of our planet. Nuclear energy seems prepared now to ravish a second layer.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Tariff

Evidence is piling up that the invasion of foreign goods is adding to the economic distress of the country. This only affects certain specific industries, such as ceramics, cotton goods, tuna fishing and so on. It could, in time, affect the automobile industry.

For instance, American ceramics manufacturers have stated to the Ways and Means Committee that "low-waged, foreign producers of lightweight china have captured over 90 per cent" of the American market. The 1957 market showed a decline over 1950 by 36.3 per cent.

In 1952, the staff of the Tariff Commission found:

"... The rate of duty necessary to equalize the United States and Japanese costs of production of medium-grade chinaware is 284 per cent ad valorem based on foreign value and 15 cents per dozen separate pieces."

Then in 1954, the same Tariff Commission decided that this American industry was not entitled to relief because Japanese were sold in this country was priced so low as to be non-competitive with similar American goods. In other words, when an Asiatic or European cartel, subsidized by a government, paying low wages, maybe exempt from taxes, can knock down an American industry, then the Tariff Commission need not act because if the foreign maker can charge less for the same goods than the American manufacturers, then they are non-competitive. If this is not gibberish, what is it?

While from the standpoint of abstract economics, a free market may be sounder than tariffs and other devices to impede trade, when wages are raised not by the law of supply and demand, but by legislative and social action, it becomes imperative to prevent a 22 cents an hour wage from destroying the market of a $1.88 an hour worker.

There was a time when it was possible for the more advanced countries to take advantage of improved techniques and machinery to make up the difference by more efficient methods of production. Today every country can own the same machinery and can learn the most advanced techniques. In fact, backward countries apply automatic machinery in preference to teaching their workers crafts and trades which involve individual skills. The more automatic the machine, the less need there is for skilled labor. In the United States, unskilled and semi-skilled labor is expensive.

Some countries need cheap labor because it is essential to their economy that they export their best production, keeping what they may for their own people who are doomed to a low standard of living. Japan is such a country. For Japan must export to be able to import food and raw materials. The same, in equal measure, is true of both Great Britain and West Germany. Such countries cannot exist without exports.

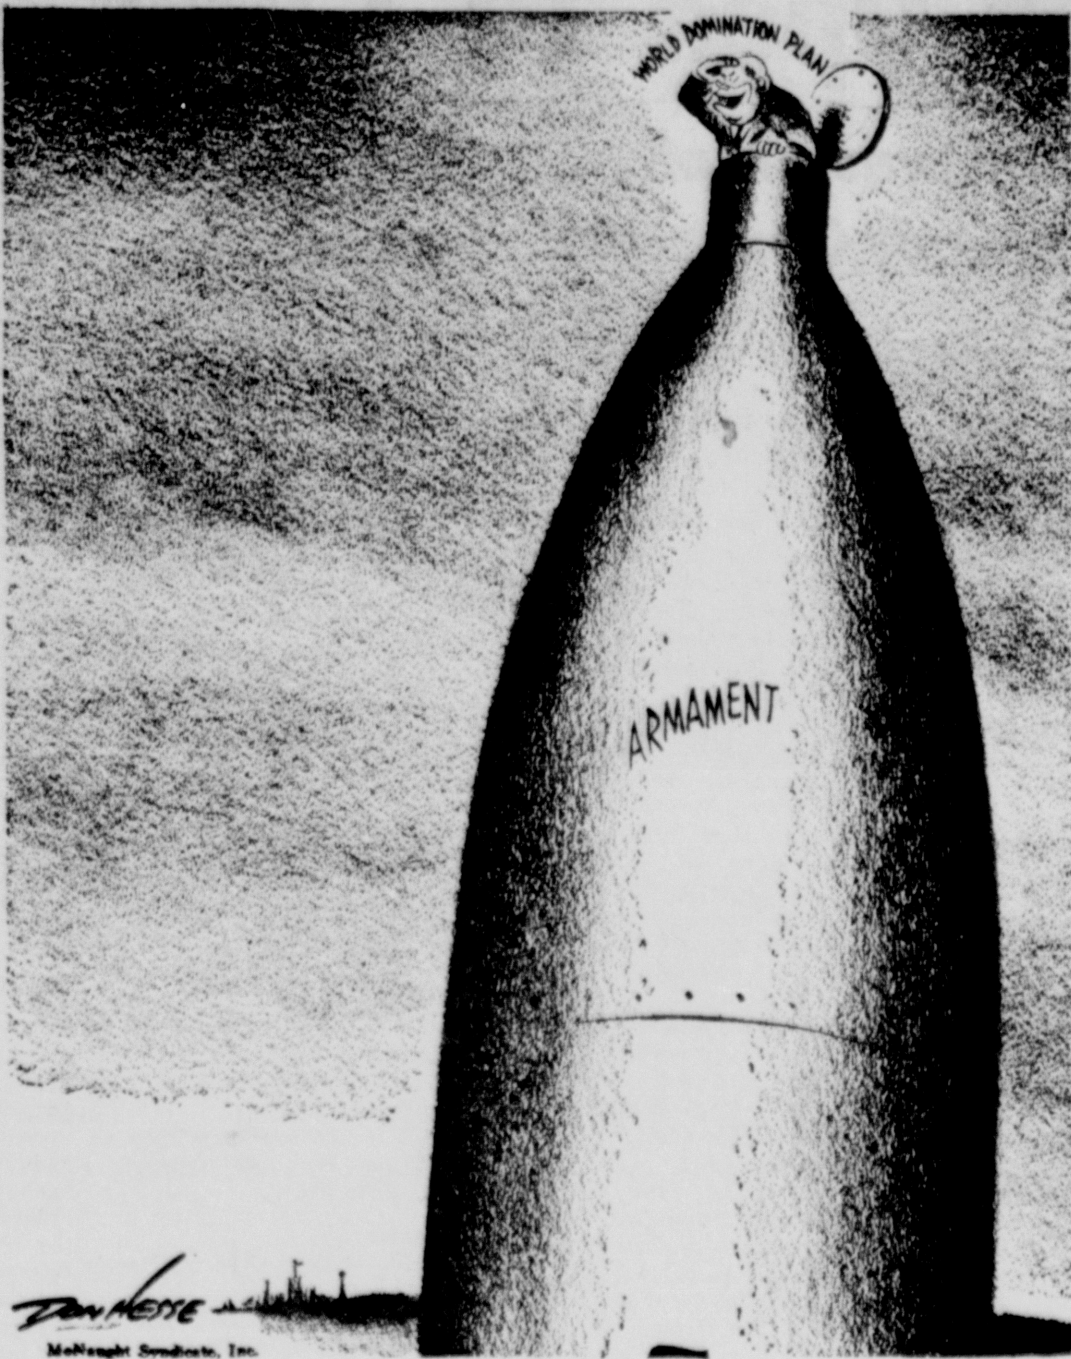

On the other hand, the United States has generally outpaced itself in the export market, not being able to compete with Japan or West Germany or Czechoslovakia or Poland even in the American market. The cost of labor as well as the cost of taxes and raw materials in the United States forces a price upon American goods which the backward countries cannot pay. As long as this is true, the best market for American goods is the United States but it is also the best market for the goods of all other countries. It is the latter condition which creates the serious problem.

E. L. Torbert, speaking for the American Fine Guild, said:

"I would describe as unethical the use of State and Commerce Department offices to encourage unofficial agreements between industry in this and foreign countries—on a unilateral basis—to control the volume of imports into the United States. We have legislation on our books to regulate trade equitably. But our State Department, instead of using these laws of the land properly, abuses them and acts to aid in the formation of illegal cartels and agreements in restraint of trade."

I have never heard this accusation before, except in the Schenley brief to the Tariff Commission which gives the impression of the existence of a foreign whisky cartel operating in the United States. Now along comes this ceramics organization with a direct accusation against the State Department. Cartels are forbidden in the United States by law. That applies equally to foreign as to American cartels. If cartelization is being arranged in the interest of foreign manufacturers and traders, surely some committee of Congress will take notice.

Our Approaches To The Summit: A Comparison

WASHINGTON

We are warned not to make invidious comparisons. But if anyone wants to gauge the decline of the Western Alliance in the Eisenhower years, the best way is to compare the previous approach to the summit and the approach that is now being made.

Then the Kremlin had to pay a heavy price in order to convince the Western nations that a summit meeting was worth the trouble and expense. Restoration of normal relations with Yugoslavia, which started the whole ferment in the Eastern European satellites, was the first installment. But freedom had to be granted to Austria, too, before Western skepticism was overcome.

Now, no price of any kind has been paid by the Kremlin, although the Soviet leaders' eagerness for new summit talks is transparently obvious. Instead, after proving their power with the Sputniks, they have simply brandished ballistic missiles with H-bomb warheads. They have then proclaimed their longing for a cosy chat. The Eastern nations, like the oysters in "Alice," are obediently hastening to the feast.

Then, the Western preparations for the summit rally were at least confident and united. It was certainly more than a little odd of President Eisenhower and Sir Anthony Eden, to wish to convince the Soviets that they were dedicated to peace at almost any price. But they and our other allies strangely agreed that good things might thereby be accomplished; and the rest of the Western aims at Geneva were perfectly sensible and quite solidly prepared.

Now, the Western summit preparations are marked by the very opposite of confidence and unity.

A current bugaboo is the danger from X-rays and other forms of radiation. Much has been said and written on the subject but we must use good judgment in coming to conclusions. More people have been helped than harmed through the use of Roentgen's discovery and we now have a better understanding of how much radiation a person can tolerate safely at any given age.

What happens to a person who receives too much X-ray? Overexposure burns the skin but this complication is rare and occurs only in X-ray treatment (not in diagnosis) or should an atomic bomb explode nearby.

By Joseph Alsop

Here in Washington, the American administration is rapidly drifting towards agreeing to close the atomic club by temporary suspension of atomic tests, without much hope of getting any balancing concessions on the other items in the so-called disarmament "package." So we shall grant this year just what the Soviets most want, and just what the wretched, wriggling Harold Stassen was required to refuse all through the long London disarmament conference. No doubt this will be hailed as a major triumph of U. S. diplomacy.

Then, the Western nations went to the summit with a great superiority of over-all power to sustain them in the negotiations. Former Secretary of Defense

What About The Hue And Cry Over X-Rays?

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen have a lower life expectancy than other physicians. But the statistics on which this observation was based included pioneers in radiology who neglected to protect themselves. Physicians in this field are in daily contact with X-rays. Leukemia is said to be more common in this group and some develop skin cancers (which are curable). This situation does not apply to patients.

On the other hand, the incidence of thyroid cancer is said to be higher in children who earlier received several X-ray treatments for enlarged thymus gland and certain chest diseases. Such treatments no longer are recommended in these conditions.

In addition, our geneticists are concerned that too much X-ray over the pelvic area may change the genes and cause mutations in the offspring. But the rays must strike the pelvis to have this effect. To my knowledge, definite proof of mutations is lacking, but since many physicians are convinced that the possibility exists, X-ray studies should be kept to a minimum during the childbearing period.

How much radiation can a man or woman acquire safely in a lifetime? This includes exposure to X-rays resulting from necessary medical and dental procedures as well as from manmade sources (atomic bombs) and background radiation (rocks, earth). The total equals five times the number of years beyond 14. A man of 27, for example, should have received no more than 5 times 9 (27 minus 18) or 45 rems.

Studies have shown that the average 30 year old has received less than one-half this dose of radiation from all sources. This leaves a large margin of safety and, with each passing birthday, the amount allowed increases. From this we can assume that we are in no danger, provided exposure is not hiked markedly. There is no need to go overboard but when an X-ray test is necessary, we should not be fearful.

White House Shows Signs Of Panic Over Possibility Of Business Panic

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Reason for conflicting statements out of the White House on the business recession last week was a serious split inside the Cabinet, plus the fact that bad news has penetrated through the White House guard with full force to Ike himself, and he is alarmed.

Just one week ago Ike's Secretary of the Treasury Bob Anderson had gone to his fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, and patched up a truce regarding taxes. Rather than have Democrats and Republicans outdoing each other in promising tax cuts, they agreed to say no more, do no more regarding tax cuts without prior notification. Four days later this truce was broken by the President himself.

Senate Republican leader Bill Knowland, leaving the White House after a long conference with the President, announced that it would be at least two months before the administration makes a decision on cutting taxes.

The Knowland statement came at 12:11 noon. At 12:59 noon the President promised a group of cheering Republican women that he would cut taxes—if necessary.

This threw the tax-cutting fat right back into the fire. It also ignored the private warning from Detroit automobile manufacturers that talk of taxes only held back the buying of automobiles. The public, they warned, is not going to rush to buy cars as long as they can hope for a must now negotiate in weakness and disorder. The comparison between then and now is really too melancholy to continue any further. There are two things to be said about it. On the one hand, whatever may have been the errors of American foreign policy, the real cause of decline in the Western position has been defense policy. And whatever his other drawbacks, the comparative firmness of Secretary Dulles has become a solid asset in the surrounding quagmire.

On the other hand, despite the great Western advantages of that period, the immediate sequel of the last summit meeting was the first decisive Soviet intervention in the vital, troubled Middle East. Having heard the Eisenhower-Eden professions of remorseless dedication to peace at almost any price, the Kremlin cheerfully sent Dimitri Shepilov to Cairo to sign the original arms contract with the Egyptians.

As of now, in contrast, the danger in Saudi Arabia is thought to be so great that the whole Western position in the Middle East may perhaps collapse before the summit meeting can even be held. The Middle Eastern danger in turn tragically threatens the second Western ally, Great Britain, with the end of her long and proud career as a great power. The third ally, France, is also in danger of an internal coup d'etat, which will perhaps remove her from the Western Alliance altogether.

And in the face of these and other perils, the leader of the West, the American government, appears to be reacting with the approximate vivacity of a dead whale on a beach, ready to be dissected with any blubber-spade that may be handy.

War Against Recession

Meanwhile, the White House resembles Ike's SHEAF offices during the Battle of the Bulge. Economic reports are scanned as anxiously as were scanned the reports from the 106th Division of Gen. Tony McAuliffe's 101st Airborne Division during that crucial battle in the Ardennes forest around Christmas of 1944. What the President's economic advisers are watching are:

1. New construction contracts.
2. New business orders.
3. Insurance companies' investment plans.
4. Advance financing for new home construction.
5. The fluctuation of the stock market.

They believe these give the business barometer better than unemployment figures.

So far, the barometer is not hopeful. Employment usually rises in March with spring construction, but unemployment figures so far, though scattered, show a continued rise in claims for unemployment insurance and a continued drop in income. This indicates that more people are losing their jobs and that those who are keeping their jobs are getting either pay cuts or less overtime.

Split In Cabinet

Meanwhile, here is how the Cabinet is split right down the middle regarding the business slump.

Go-slow Group—The majority Cabinet group believes in taking no hasty action until mid-May. They are more worried over inflation than depression, believe the administration was panicked back in 1935-34, moved too quickly to head off a recession, with the result that the recession was "overcured" and started prices on their inflationary spiral. They don't want to make this mistake again, are willing to gamble that the economy will pull out of its slump. A tax cut now, they argue, would start a chain reaction, unbalance the budget, lead to higher prices, more inflation.

Chief architect of this wait-and-see philosophy is White House economic adviser Gabriel Hauge, the pipe-smoking, tweed - suit economist who has been with Ike since the beginning. His chief support comes from Sherman Adams, wiry, square-dancing, effi-

Himself was in bed by 11. He had yelled down the hot air register for everybody to have a good time but to please keep quiet so that he could sleep. This was impossible, but his two daughters were afraid of him so they yelled up "All right, Pop." The daughters were nice. They had figures and they were friendly, but they were getting old taking care of Himself.

One of them — Tessie — used to call the house Last Chance Gulch. It sat on the side of Goat Hill with its face slightly pushed in, as though the old man had tried originally to paste it to the earth. Himself came up on the porch drunk one night and he hit the edge of a loose board and it flipped up and smacked him on the forehead and he passed out and swore it had been the Sweeneys, laying in wait for him.

That was long ago. The Sweeneys were friendly now, and Terry and his brother Vincent were at the party. So were the McDermotts and the Shapiro twins, although the Shapiros, who owned the candy store in the valley, were always aloof and a little bit frightened at the antics of the others.

Terry was a big man. They said he was so strong that he was black and blue from blessing himself. He liked Himself's other daughter, Helen. She had black hair and big blue eyes and she wanted to go on the stage. She could sing a little, but when she did, the old man upstairs always thought she was crying and he came running down in a bathrobe roaring for everybody to clear out.

Terry wanted to marry Helen, but he was too bashful to say it. Helen said it, but Terry always got red in the face and cracked his knuckles, so she stopped saying it. He liked the Hoolihans, but he couldn't stand the kid brother, Mike. Michael was nice enough, but he had come home from the war shell-shocked. It didn't show unless he had a few belts and then he began to see soldiers marching up and down Goat Hill. He was seeing them tonight and it was only 11 o'clock.

Helen was in the kitchen making the spaghetti. She had bought ten pounds of it to make sure. Now it was boiling out of one pot and into another. Tessie was stirring the sauce and she kept

Yardley Leads Pistons To Win

Detroit Defeats St. Louis, 109-89

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Detroit Pistons walloped the St. Louis Hawks 109-89 here Sunday, winning their first victory in the National Basketball Ass'n's Western Division semi-final playoff series. The Hawks lead in games 2-1.

George Yardley pumped in 17 points in a big Piston first quarter and he wound up with 31.

Harry Gallatin made 20 and played a steady floor game for Detroit, while Gene Shue chipped in with 19.

Cliff Hagan, the St. Louis scoring star in the first two games, had 29 points.

The teams go to Detroit for the fourth game of the series Tuesday.

Collins And Hill Score Smashing Win In Endurance Test

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Peter Collins and Phil Hill were the hottest sports car driving team on the world's race courses Sunday after their smashing victory in Saturday's 12-hour Florida Grand Prix of Endurance.

Collins, 26, an Englishman from Kidderminster, and Hill, 30, an American from Santa Monica, Calif., traveled a record 1,040 miles in pushing their red Italian Ferrari to victory in the Sebring race, one of the world's toughest tests of men and machines.

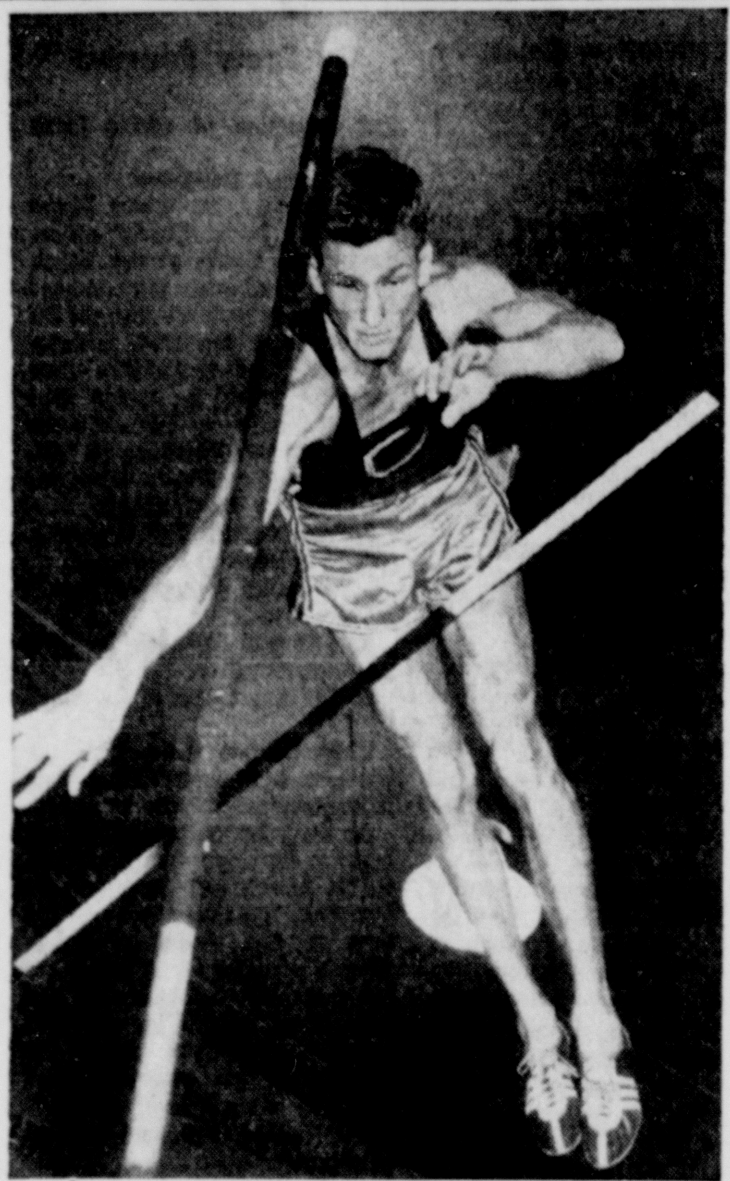

It was the same sleek racer in which they won the 1,000 kilometer race in Buenos Aires Jan. 26, the first of eight races in which points can be earned toward the world sports car championship. Sebring was the second.

Twenty-four of the starting 65 cars broke down under the strain of the race around the twisting Sebring course and even the winning Ferrari was in trouble when the finish came at 10 p. m.

Luigi Musso of Rome and Oliver Gendebrien of Belgium, finished second in another factory Ferrari, about six miles behind the leaders.

Harry Sebell of France and Wolfgang Seibel of Germany were third in a little German Porsche.

None of the British Jaguars and Aston-Martins, the cars expected to give the formidable Ferrari team a fight, finished the race.

Latrobe Pro's 276 Earns $2,000 Prize

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer came winging home with a six-under-par 65 Sunday and won the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament with a pressure-packed birdie on the final hole.

His 72-hole chart read 70-69-72-65—276.

Palmer rallied brilliantly after starting the day four strokes behind the leader Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla. The 28-year-old Latrobe, Pa., professional's 65 was the best round of the entire tournament.

Finsterwald, playing in the same threesome with Palmer, needed a birdie on the 72nd hole to tie for first. But he didn't get it and dropped into a deadlock for second at 277 with tall Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., who finished just ahead of the final threesome. Hawkins closed with a 66. Finsterwald with a 70.

Par for the 6,265-yard Pasadena Club course is 36-35-71. Palmer came into the final hole knowing a birdie four would edge out Hawkins.

His one-iron second shot was on the green, about 25 feet past the cup. He left his approach putt about three feet short and grimed in disgust. But he stroked the all-important second putt true and picked up top prize of $2,000 for the first time this year.

Finsterwald lost his chance for a tie when his second shot strayed off to the left, a little short of the green. His chip was strong and he two-putted from about 20 feet.

Leo Biogetti of St. Paul, Minn., closed with a 69 for 279 and fourth place. Bill Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., was next with a 67 and 280, followed by Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex., who had a 68 for 281.

Mike Dietz of Lake Orion, Mich., with a 68, and Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., with a 69, were next at 282.

Cubs Whip Tribe In 10-8 Slugfest

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Walt Moryn and Jim Bolger hit home runs Sunday as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cleveland Indians, 10-8.

The Cubs' margin of victory was Bolger's pinch homer with a man on base in the ninth inning.

Southpaw Taylor Phillips blanked the Indians on two hits for six innings, but he was knocked out of the box by a five-run rally in the seventh. A bases-loaded double by Vic Wertz was the big blow.

Texas Griddier Dies

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Don Wayne Wilson, 21, who starred as a guard of the University of Texas football season last season, died Sunday of an apparent heart attack.

Relatives said Wilson complained of not feeling well after a fishing trip this morning.

He was stricken at the home of a brother, Bill Wilson, another former Texas player. Bill found him gasping for breath and summoned an ambulance. He was dead on arrival at Brackenridge Hospital.

Rookie's Blow Sinks Orioles

Giants Win, 8-5, On Taussig's Hit

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Rookie center fielder Don Taussig crashed a double off the wall with the bases loaded in the eighth Sunday to give the San Francisco Giants an 8-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Taussig's hit to left center off Don Ferrarese knocked in all three runners, breaking a 5-5 tie. Baltimore went into the inning leading 5-4 on four home runs and a brief mental lapse by two San Francisco infielders.

Hitting solo homers for the Orioles were starting pitcher Connie Johnson in the third, catcher Guy Triandos and $110,000 rookie outfielder Dave Nicholson in the fourth and Al Pilarcik in the sixth. It was Nicholson's only hit in his eight spring exhibition game trips to the plate.

Baltimore's final run came when San Francisco's shortstop and second baseman, Andre Rodgers and Eddie Bressoud, thought a force-out was the final one of the inning and didn't try for a double play, allowing the run to score.

Ray Crone, who gave up two runs and three hits in three innings, gained credit for the victory. Ferrarese was the loser. The Giants collected 11 hits, the Orioles 8.

In consolation games Catholic Central of Troy, N.Y., upset Bishop Neumann of Philadelphia, 65-55 to gain third place, and Gonzaga of Washington took fifth place by defeating LaSalle of Cumberland, Md., 67-48.

Molloy, unbeaten in 32 games this year won the tournament in 1954, 1955 and 1957 when the school was known as St. Anne's. St. Francis of Brooklyn, N.Y., won the tourney in 1956.

MVP Award Goes To Willie Hall

WASHINGTON, March 23 — LaSalle High School, of Cumberland, received a trophy today for having made the best second half comeback during the fifth annual Knights of Columbus Invitational Basketball Tournament which drew to a close today at McDonough Hall, Georgetown University.

In Saturday night's consolation round opener, LaSalle trailed at the quarters 18-8, 33-24, 45-39 and outscored Norfolk, Va., Catholic 15 to 4 in the final period to pull the game out of the fire. The final score was 54-49.

The trophy was donated by Bishop Byrne Council, No. 3877, Knights of Columbus in memory of Msgr. William E. Kelly, native of Allegany county, who died several years ago. Msgr. Kelly was pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church, Washington, D. C., at the time of his death.

Parkersburg (W. Va.) Catholic was the winner of the Sportsmanship Trophy and Willie Hall, star of Archbishop Molloy High School, winner of the tournament, was voted the most valuable player and received the Rev. Kenneth B. Moore Trophy.

Other trophies went to Armond Reo, of Catholic Central, Troy, N. Y., for most free throws made; Archbishop Molloy, for most free throws scored by a team, and Tom Hoover, John Carroll, outstanding rebounder.

Members of Archbishop Molloy's championship team received statuettes, the second place team, John Carroll, received gold basketballs and Catholic Central of Troy, N. Y., which finished in third place, was the recipient of silver basketballs. Lou Carnesecca, coach of Archbishop Molloy, which is undefeated in 32 games this season, also received a trophy.

Five of the eight teams in the tournament had players honored on the all-tournament team. They were: William Mulvihill, Bishop Neumann; Donnie Burks, James Carroll and Willie Hall, of Archbishop Molloy; Tom Follard and Dan Slattery, Gonzaga; Tom Hoover and Ed Malloy, of John Carroll, and Joseph Geiger and Armond Reo, Catholic Central, Troy, N. Bucs Blanked By Milwaukee

Low Burdette Gets Credit For 4-0 Win

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Three Milwaukee pitchers combined Sunday to give the Braves their first shutout of the exhibition season, a 4-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Low Burdette, pitching for the first time since his three World Series triumphs over the New York Yankees, easily retired all the nine batters he faced in the first three innings. Burdette also doubled over the winning run.

Don Kaiser gave up five hits and a walk in three innings. Then Humberto Robinson pitched hitless ball for the last three innings and struck out five.

The Braves belted starter Vernon Law for nine of their 10 hits and all of their runs. Casey Wise and Wes Covington led the assault with three hits apiece. Two of Covington's hits were for doubles. Pittsburgh ... 000 000 000—0 5 1

Jackson, Francona Star As White Sox Rout Redlegs, 14-5

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Ron Jackson smashed two homers, each good for three runs, in leading the Chicago White Sox to a 14-5 rout of the Cincinnati Redlegs Sunday.

Tito Francona, who is rapidly becoming the Sox No. 1 clutch hitter, also drove in six runs with four singles.

The Sox got nine hits, including doubles by Don Prohovich and Bill Fischer.

Early Wynn pitched the first five innings and yielded only one hit, a fluke single by Frank Robinson.

Fischer was the victim of a three-run homer by the Redlegs' Bob Thurman in the eighth. It was the first circuit clout off him in 108 2-3 consecutive innings, on a streak that began last May. Cincinnati ... 020 000 020—5 6 3
Chicago (A) 005 001 62x—14 9 2

It will be back to school as usual Monday, but an hour will be set aside to pay tribute to the first PHS team in 26 years to win the state cage title. A student assembly will be staged in the field-house.

Basilio Is 8-5 Choice In Bout With Robinson

Middleweight Bout Set For Tuesday

By MURRAY ROSE
The Associated Press

Sugar Ray Robinson hopes to shake off the years once again on Tuesday night and win the middleweight crown for the fifth time by dethroning lion-hearted Carmen Basilio in their return 15-rounder at Chicago Stadium.

The odds favor the younger and smaller Basilio by 8 to 5. The 30-year-old Chittenango (N.Y.) clouter gave away everything but age when he smashed the crown off Sugar Ray's brow in a great, 15-round battle at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23, 1957.

It was a close fight all the way and the verdict was the same, Carmen winning by split decision over his taller and heavier rival.

Robinson's middleweight title history shows he won it from Jake Lamotta, lost it to England's Randy Turpin, regained it from Turpin, and then let it go by retirement. He returned to the ring and regained the crown by knocking out Bobo Olson, lost it to Gene Fullmer, knocked out Fullmer in the return, and then lost it to Basilio.

A standing room crowd of 21,000 is expected to contribute to a record indoor gate of about $435,000. The record now is the $422,918 the middleweight title fight between Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano drew in 1947.

The bout, starting at 11 p. m. EST) will not be telecast into homes. It will be telecast over closed circuits into theaters and auditoriums in 38 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

Chicago and a 100-mile radius will be blacked out. There will be a national radio broadcast (CBS) however.

Welterweights are featured in the major television fights of the week.

Garnet (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia and Charley (Tomstone) Smith, of Los Angeles, a couple of welterweight contenders, collide in a ten-rounder at the Philadelphia Arena Wednesday night (ABC TV, 10 p. m., EST).

Mickey Crawford, fast-rising welter prospect from Saginaw, Mich., takes on veteran and still formidable Gil Turner of Philadelphia at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night (NBC radio, TV, 10 p. m., EST).

The Monday night television headline (Dumont 10 p. m. EST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena matches a couple of aggressive middleweights in Tony (Tex) Gonzalez of Orange, N. J., and Eddie Andrews of Lowell, Mass.

Cudone And McIntire Advance To Finals

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Happy-go-lucky Mrs. Philip Cudone and deliberate Barbara McIntire gained the finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament Sunday.

Mrs. Cudone, the medalist from West Caldwell, N.J., won her semifinal over Miriam Bailey of Evanston, Ill., 3 and 1. Miss McIntire, the defending champion from Lake Park, Fla., dropped a five-foot pressure putt on the last hole for a 1-up victory over Mrs. Barbara Romack Porter of Sacramento, Calif.

The championship match over 18 holes will be played Monday.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

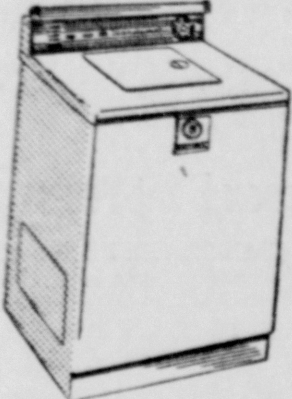

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 (INS)—They are starting from scratch on "The Mark Hellinger Story" at Columbia. Both Charles Seelnee and George Sidney have been alerted, Charlie to produce and George to direct, an entirely new script, one that will show Mark as he was in the days when we all knew him.

Those of us who remember the glamorous and beautiful Gladys (Mrs. Hellinger) when she wrote a beauty column for the New York Mirror, believe that Kim Novak, also a beauty, is well chosen to play Gladys. This is Kim's next after "Bell, Book And Candle."

An exclusive pilot film was made by British comedienne Hermione Gingold for George Burns. Now don't for a minute think she's going to take Grace's place. This is for a show all her own.

party and he said the pilot Hermione made was excellent and it looks very much as if she will join his McCadden productions.

So far George has no one to take Grace's place but he has no idea of continuing the same pattern on his shows. That he couldn't do without our Gracie.

Jerry Lewis tells me that he goes directly from Palm Springs where he is appearing at the Chi Chi to Mexico to score "Rock-A-Bye Baby" because of the musicians strike.

When Jerry returns he starts working immediately on "Geisha Boy" which is patterned along the lines of the early Chaplin stories. Jerry's role is that of a second rate entertainer who is such a flop when he goes to Korea to entertain the service men that a seven year old native boy is the only one who thinks he is funny and the kid's devotion helps him.

A telephone call from Marie McDonald, who is trying to pick up the bits and pieces, was mostly about her career, she leaves shortly for New York to be on the Steve Allen program March 30th. But she has asked for and received a postponement on her April 9th Coconut Grove opening.

Sugar Ray Robinson has more on his mind right now than his big fight Tuesday night with Carmen Basilio in Chicago. Sugar Ray will turn actor again, this time in a dramatic role in "On The Horns" by Carlos Montalban, brother of Ricardo, who will also direct.

Robinson plays a matador and the entire story will be shot in Mexico City. "On The Horns" will be the first of three pictures the fighter plans to make for the Ray Robinson productions, his own company.

Sir Launcelot, the Calypso favorite, singing impromptu verses about the guests, was a hit at the dinner party Dorothy Manners and Margaret Ettinger gave honoring Lorena Mayer's birthday.

Irene Dunne, who usually has to be coaxed, sang happy birthday solo. George Burns sang too. Well, we all did including Gracie Allen, Bob Young and others.

Debbie Reynolds came with Carlton Carpenter, who's back in town, to the Al Zugsmiths farewell party for Russ Tamblyn at Ben Blue's. This was by permission of Eddie Fisher.

Sophie Tucker made a hit when she announced at the "Teacher's Pet" party at the Coconut Grove that she is giving $500 to the Los Angeles Press Club's 8-ball foundation for newspaper men. Sophie sang special numbers to Clark Gable and Doris Day.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Not merely how much better you look, but how much better you feel makes good make-down valuable. And it helps the skin, too.

Put Best Face Forward

It has been a long time since anyone believed that there's anything really injurious about make-up. Even when some women did, a long time ago, they used it anyway, because looking better made them feel so much better. And make-up, or make-down as we call the right kind, is worthwhile for this reason only. But it's also beneficial for purposes of keeping the skin clean, soft and protected against wind and weather when habits of care and application are right.

Pure food and drug laws which govern the manufacture of cosmetics went into effect 25 years ago. Cosmetics are safe for the normal skin. There are non-allergenic cosmetics for skins which present special problems, and these should be used for skins that show even the smallest sign of irritation. Don't prescribe for yourself, however, even though using them is sure to be helpful. Consult a skin specialist who will prescribe exactly what meets special needs, perhaps including medications as well as the cosmetics.

But any woman who has eyed her own colorless image some dreary morning needn't be told what cosmetics do to lift her spirits and her looks. She may, however, need some advice about what to use. The woman who's entering her more mature years, for example, needs a cosmetic checkup. Her skin may have subtly changed color, and she should try new foundations that are more natural than the brighter shades she used to use. In the interests of make-down, she should give up shades that are too obvious cover-up and that create an artificial effect. She should try new powders for the same reason, and should experiment with more delicate lipstick. And most often of all, she should consider rouge. Although she may not have needed it before, a touch of it may provide exactly the glow for her skin it needs now to put her best face forward.

Sometimes Early Bird Does Not Get The Worm

SEEKONK, Mass. (AP)—Sometimes the early bird doesn't even get a worm.

Chairman Ralph H. Case of the Seekonk Board of Selectmen was preparing for the selectmen's meeting, despite the howling snowstorm. Then, as the gale ripped down a power line, the town hall went dark. Groping to a telephone, fumbling with the dial, Case contacted the two other selectmen and called the meeting off.

That was when a man arrived at the door. Covered with snow from the blizzard, he explained he was the manager of an airborne spraying organization, and had come to sell the selectmen a mosquito spraying service.

Milwaukee Cabs Are Found Illegal

MILWAUKEE (AP)—All Milwaukee taxicabs are illegal and don't belong on the streets. There are none that old in the current fleet.

Gerald P. Caffrey, municipal reference librarian, in checking the city's taxicab ordinance Friday found this item: "No permit shall be granted to operate any vehicle that was not lawfully operating on Oct. 1, 1929."

Aldermen said they would introduce immediately an amendment to delete the sentence so that no permit to delete the sentence shall be granted to operate any vehicle that was not lawfully operating on Oct. 1, 1929.

Musical Instruments

Sought For Patients

A state-wide request for musical instruments for use by patients in the state mental hospitals is being made by the Maryland Association for Mental Health.

Although small music groups exist in all the hospitals Rehabilitation departments are severely handicapped by a shortage of instruments. One of the hospitals is seeking 30 wind and string instruments to create a hospital-wide orchestra.

In addition to band instruments, all of the hospitals need pianos for ward use. Transportation can be arranged by contacting the Maryland Association for Mental Health, 2100 N. Charles Street, Baltimore 18.

Study Of PSC

CHARLESTON (AP)—The Legislature's permanent study committee is due in Charleston Monday to start looking into the affairs of the Public Service Commission.

The meeting comes at a time when there is public clamor over a controversial higher rate schedule for United Fuel Gas Co.

The legislative study of commission policies and practices in fixing public utility rates was authorized, however, before the current agitation developed with respect to United Fuel.

Monday's one-day meeting will bring together members of the Joint Committee on Government and Finance and the Commission on Interstate Cooperation.

Dr. Carl M. Frasure of West Virginia University, chairman of the Commission on Interstate Cooperation, said earlier the meeting would be devoted exclusively to the study of the PSC.

All three PSC members—Chairman Myron R. Renick, Hills Townsend and T. D. Kauffelt—have been invited to appear, along with Sen. A. Carl Carey (D-Kanawha), who has sponsored a movement to investigate utility rates.

The meeting of the joint committee is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the Senate Judiciary Committee room at the Capitol.

Prior to that time, a meeting has been set for the House Rules Committee to act on filling vacancies on committee assignments created by the recent death of House Speaker W. E. Flannery of Man.

Harry Boden Asks Delay In Murder Trial

Brother Found Guilty By Jury

Counsel for Harry Boden, 48, of Rockwood, Pa., brother of Melvin Boden, 36, who was found guilty of the murder of his wife by a Somerset County Court jury on Saturday, has filed a motion for the continuance of his trial during the next term of court in May.

On Saturday night the petit jury, composed of seven men and five women, deliberated about four hours before finding Melvin Boden guilty of the first degree murder of his wife, Mrs. Mary (Growall) Boden on November 17.

A poll of the jury indicated that a majority favored life imprisonment for Melvin Boden. Judge Thomas F. Lansberry, who was on the bench during the week-long trial, delayed sentence pending action of his attorneys. Could Seek New Trial

They have until Wednesday of this week to file a motion for a new trial. If the attorneys do not file such a motion, the prisoner can be called into court for sentencing by Judge Lansberry.

If the motion is filed within the four-day period it will go on the argument list for April in the argument court, at which time counsel for the commonwealth and defense will argue the motion.

Afterward the court will hand down a decision for or against a new trial. If the motion is denied the prisoner will probably be sentenced next month.

Brother Faces Charges

Harry Boden is charged with murder and arson as well as being an accessory in the November 17 death of his sister-in-law. His attorneys, Frederick F. Coffroth and Robert M. Keim, also counsel for his brother, filed a motion for the continuance of his trial since they felt he would not get a fair trial at this time.

District Attorney Frank A. Orban had asked for the death penalty for Melvin Boden, on the accusation that he had knocked his wife unconscious and then set fire to bedding in the hope his crime would go unnoticed.

The victim was found lying in smoldering bedclothes on the floor between two beds on the first floor of their home. She died several hours later in Somerset Community Hospital. Death was attributed to shock induced by burns.

During the evening a group of Allegheny High School students, Gary George, Barbara Miller, Eric Fable, and William Claus played several selections. J. Wallace Close, county tax collector, showed slides and told the PTA members about his trip to Europe last summer.

Some 225 County Girls To Observe FHA Week

Nearly 225 girls belonging to Future Homemakers of America chapters in five Allegany County high schools are joining with some 460,000 members throughout the United States this week in the observance of FHA Week.

Teachers Get Report On Legislation

Robert Dubel, assistant executive secretary of the State Teachers Association, told some 150 members of the Allegany County association that all of the associations around the state did effective work in promoting the legislative program this year.

Mr. Dubel said Allegheny County's delegation in the House of Delegates and Senator Charles M. See should be given credit for the support they gave the program. He urged all teachers to register on or before April 19 so they can vote in the May 20 primary election.

Orville Berwick, field representative of the State Teachers Association, also attended the recent business-social meeting at Valley High School.

Hayes Chambers, president of the county association, called for reports from Miss Mary Murray, chairman of the legislative committee; Mrs. Rosalie Shove, who reported on the public relations workshop at Baltimore, and Joseph Haugen, credit union.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served in the school cafeteria. Tomas Hutcheson, social chairman, was assisted by Miss Gertrude Williams and Miss Jane Grindel.

12 B&O Freight Cars Derailed Near Sand Patch

MEYERSDALE, Pa. (AP)—A Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train lost 12 of its cars Sunday in a derailment about two miles west of nearby Sand Patch. No one was injured.

The railroad said the 105-car train was heading to New York from Chicago. The wreckage ripped out about 200 feet of rail on the eastbound track.

All other traffic was detoured around the wreckage by using the westbound track, a railroad spokesman said, and no delays were caused. The wreckage was cleaned up about 8 p.m.

The railroad spokesman said officials are investigating to determine the cause of the derailment. He said the extent of the damage has not been determined.

The derailment occurred near the Sand Patch tunnel.

Long Urges More Urban Renewal Funds

BALTIMORE (AP)—Clarence D. Long said Sunday night that the Eisenhower administration's urban renewal emphasis "should be on guaranteed loans where possible rather than actual subsidies."

A candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate in the May 20 primary election, Long said in a statement:

"The sums allocated by the Republicans have been chicken feed for its urban renewal program. Yet, the President in his latest message proposes further retrenchment by throwing the cost of planning back on the city and reducing even further the small federal matching grants from one-half to one-third."

"If Eisenhower could predict two years ago that it would take 200 years at the present rate to get rid of the slums, his planned retrenchment would be lengthening this to 1,000 years."

Water Supplies Of Dairy Farms To Be Checked

A survey of the water supplies used on farms in the Cumberland Milkshed has been started by the Allegheny County Health Department.

The milkshed includes 552 farms in Allegheny and Garrett counties in Maryland, Somerset County in Pennsylvania and Mineral and Hardy counties in West Virginia.

The dairy farms produce about 18,000 gallons of milk daily. About two-thirds of the milk is used by the Cumberland metropolitan area and the rest is shipped to other milksheds by tank truck.

The first part of the program, according to J. Byron Dowling, sanitarian, will be to inspect all springs and wells to make sure they meet the construction requirements of the State Health Department.

Sanitarians also will collect water samples from each dairy farm for analysis at the Health Department's branch laboratory here.

Sanitarians will follow through by further sampling and tests if contamination is found so that all of the dairy farm water supplies may be brought up to state standards.

The Flintstone chapter, which is the county's largest with 58 members, also is the oldest having been organized about 20 years ago. The second chapter to be organized was Mt. Savage five years ago. The other five chapters have been formed in the past two years.

For the 1958-59 school year the Flintstone chapter will have a state officer. Lorraine Smith will serve as state reporter.

During FHA Week in Allegheny County, the chapters are planning assembly programs in their respective schools. The FHA organizations will be brought to the attention of the schools through posters and show case displays. Some schools will have social functions for prospective members of the club.

State Organization Elects Malcolm

Ancient Art Kept Alive:

Frederick County Has A Bladesmith

FREDERICK (AP)—In the village of Lime Kiln, four miles south of here, a lost art is being reborn — the ancient trade of bladesmithing.

A bladesmith is a maker of knives and swords. These craftsmen were essential to everyday life for centuries. Secrets of this very difficult art were handed down from father to son and jealously guarded.

With the advent of firearms, the popularity of knives dropped and because of this, the bladesmith disappeared.

William Moran of Lime Kiln has mastered the many problems of bladesmithing and has found himself a fascinating and profitable hobby.

Demo Senate Aspirants Will Share Rostrums

To Speak At Two Dinners This Week

By The Associated Press

Maryland's four major candidates for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination are scheduled to speak from the same platform twice this week.

The candidates are James Bruce, former ambassador to Argentina; Clarence D. Long, Johns Hopkins University professor; George P. Mahoney, Baltimore County contractor, and Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro.

All four plan to attend a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Tuesday in Salisbury. Main speaker at the Eastern Shore affair will be Tennessee Gov. Frank G. Clement.

The next night, Wednesday, the same four are invited to a Democratic dinner and rally at Chesapeake Beach in Southern Maryland's Calvert County.

The Democratic Senate aspirants were heard from during the weekend when they appeared at a rally in Frederick.

Mahoney Sees Appeal

Mahoney told a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner that nominating him for the Senate job in the May 20 primary would be the best way of electing Comptroller J. Millard Tawes governor in the November general election.

Tawes is the gubernatorial candidate on the Democrats' so-called "harmony" ticket which does not include Mahoney. The others on the slate are Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert for re-election, Senate President Louis Goldstein (D-Calvert) for comptroller and D'Alesandro for the Senate.

"On the basis of the record in two general elections," said Mahoney, "I have brought more people to the polls to vote Democratic than any other candidate ever has."

"It is those voters who go to the polls and vote Democratic who win elections—not those who merely register Democratic. By bringing out that vote, I think I can help the entire ticket."

The other three candidates also issued statements during the weekend.

D'Alesandro Hits Pay TV

D'Alesandro's statement said the Federal Communications Commission should not license any broadcasters of pay television because "the air belongs to the people."

"Once pay television gets a foothold in the broadcasting industry," he added, "it will seize a stranglehold that will, within a couple of years, drive free television out of existence."

Bruce said a luncheon and reception would be given in his honor April 12 on the Eastern Shore, which has 34 unit votes in the primary.

The affair at the Queen Annes County home of Clarence W. Miles, he said, would be sponsored by former Gov. W. Preston Lane Jr. of Hagerstown and former U.S. Senators George L. Radcliffe and Millard E. Tydings.

Long Hits 'Bait' Ads

Long criticized what he termed "bait advertising" and the "fast buck salesmen and dealers."

"Untold poor and semi-literate people," he said, "are being cheated every day by the semi-underworld of business. People of little education often sign installment contracts thinking they are signing a receipt for something free."

The Frederick affair, attracting some 450 of the party faithful, heard an address by Rep. Saund (D-Calif.). The Californian cautioned that the business recession could develop into a full fledged depression unless the administration harkens to Democratic leadership in Congress on some programs.

Saund suggested that expansion of the public's buying power would help and that as a result business conditions would find their own proper level of supply and demand.

Naturalization Hearing Scheduled For Friday

The semi-annual naturalization hearing will be held Friday afternoon in Allegheny County Circuit Court.

Two persons are definitely scheduled to become citizens of the United States and there is a possibility that two others may receive their oath of allegiance.

'Free' Enterprise: Warden Reveals 30 W. Va. Pen Inmates In Business

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—State Penitentiary Warden Donivon Adams disclosed Sunday that inmates own and operate at least 30 small businesses behind the prison walls here.

The information came to light after a $2,200 clothing contract between the state and convicted murderer Hollie Griffith for Conservation Department uniforms was cancelled as illegal.

Griffith, serving a life term, has been in the prison for 43 years. State law prohibits a government agency from entering into a contract with a prisoner for the type of services Griffith was to provide.

Adams said that he and other prison officials consider the operation of the small businesses as the best rehabilitation step taken at the institution.

The enterprises are not to be confused with State Industries, Inc., which manufactures a variety of items in factories behind the prison walls.

That operation is maintained by the state, with prisoners working at the machines paid a certain amount daily for turning out such products as soap, tobacco, paint, auto license plates and road traffic signs.

Outbid Prison Industries

Griffith actually outbid the state's prison industries to obtain the contract for the Conservation Department uniforms. The agreement came to light on Public Institutions Commissioner Harold Neely's recent visit here.

Adams said that many of the privately owned business shops conducted by the prisoners are set up in the men's cells, where they make belts, rings, billfolds and lamps.

All supplies ordered by the convicts are checked by authorities, and the prison businessmen handle no cash. All transactions are in script, with the warden the custodian of all accounts.

"If the system of permitting inmates to operate small businesses is curtailed," Adams said, "I am afraid the morale of the prisoners will be affected and the operation of the institution seriously impaired."

Neely told a news conference in Charleston last week that improper operations at the penitentiary would be halted.

Griffith has his own business which includes a dry cleaning and pressing shop as well as tailoring facilities. It has been reported that the 65-year-old lifer's prison account has a balance of more than $10,000.

Businesses Vary

Other inmates operate barber shops; some manufacture leather pocketbooks, and others turn out woodworking novelties which are sold in the prison commissary for gifts to friends on the outside.

Prisoners' items also are offered for public sale at the Moundsville Mound Museum and at the visitors' room of the administration building.

Prison officials said that Griffith progressed from a meager start to a point where he purchased two dozen sewing machines, pressing equipment and dry cleaning vats when private outside owners abandoned the operations at the penitentiary 20 years ago.

Griffith's supplies include cloth, thread, certain machine parts, non-flammable cleaning materials and other supplies. He makes his own purchases, and the bills are paid by prison officials from his bank account.

License Tags Will Be Sold Tuesday Despite Holiday

Although every other office at the Court House will be closed tomorrow in observance of the Maryland Day holiday, the office of Tax Collector J. Wallace Close will be open all day long.

This extra duty for Mr. Close and his staff is in line with the policy established several years ago of providing special service for those people who come to the Court House to purchase their Maryland automobile license tags.

Nearly 11,000 tags have been sold at the Court House since the sale started late in February. All of the tags in the GA series were sold by Friday afternoon.

Tax Turnover To Uncle Sam Accelerated

The Internal Revenue Service has been given a new and effective means of assuring that income taxes and social security taxes, which employers are required to withhold from the salaries and wages of their employees, will be paid over promptly to the government.

This has been realized by the President's signing of Public Law 85-321, according to C. I. Fox, district director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, comprising Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Mr. Fox stated that, although the great majority of employers fully comply with this requirement, the government continually has been faced with the problem of relatively few employers who fail promptly to pay over such taxes.

He also stated that while the delinquencies are a small proportion of the total amount of taxes collected each year, to permit their continuance places an unfair burden on law-abiding employers and the taxpaying public generally.

The new law makes it a criminal offense for any delinquent employer, after notice is served on him in accordance with its provisions, to fail to deposit these taxes, within two banking days after their collection, in a separate bank account in trust for the United States. Noncompliance can result in the imposition of severe penalties.

Mr. Fox emphasized that the provisions of the new law will be administered fairly but that the service "will be firm in seeing that withheld taxes properly due the Government are not dissipated by employers or otherwise diverted to their own use."

In addition to income and social security which employers are required to withhold from salaries and wages, the new law also applies to the taxes on transportation and communication charges as well as the taxes on safe deposit boxes, admissions, and club dues which are required to be collected by carriers, telephone and telegraph companies, banks, theaters, and certain types of clubs at the time the charges for these facilities and services are paid.

Industrial Exhibit Is Set In Area

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, which is anxious to expand this area's stake in the missile field, announced yesterday that an industrial exhibit will be held in Huntington, W. Va., June 17-19.

The Exhibit of Business Opportunities planned at the Huntington Memorial Field House, the Chamber said, will give officials of area firms a chance to find out what is needed by government and business and to talk to the people who want it.

Products from the Army, Navy and Air Force, representing the accelerated $20 billion purchasing program, will be on exhibit. Included will be nuclear energy reactor parts, guided missiles, aircraft production items, ships and marine equipment and special industry machinery.

The exhibits, the Chamber said, will be manned by people who will be able to answer questions about negotiated contracts and how to participate in them.

Included in the exhibit will be displays of hardware, soft goods and supply, research and development projects needed by private industry and state, local and federal governments.

The Department of Defense will assist Huntington area officials in staging the exhibit, which is one of four to be held this year in areas which have substantial labor surpluses.

Officials reported that 23 new plants moved into one area as a result of a similar exhibit. Chamber officials will urge area business leaders to attend.

Haselberger Obtains Building Permit

Francis E. Haselberger, 403 Grand Avenue, has obtained a permit from the Allegheny County assessing department for construction of a $5,000 dwelling on the south side of Granmlich Road in Election District 29 at LaVale.

The 25 by 52 foot house will be of concrete block construction.

Brush Fire Checked

Firemen from West Side station yesterday afternoon checked a brush fire on Rose Hill Avenue at the end of Brown Avenue. The call was received at 4:03 p. m. and firemen were out about half an hour.

Telephone Co. Rate Increase Appeal Urged

Mayor Of Laurel Suggests Action

The possibility that nine Maryland cities and the Allegany County Board of Commissioners might appeal the February 11 decision of the Public Service Commission granting the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company a $6,048,900 increase in its annual gross revenue has been raised here.

A letter received by the county commissioners from Mayor Harry Handingham Jr., of Laurel, one of the nine communities which originally protested the proposed increase before the PSC, said:

"We feel that the recently approved increase in our telephone rates and charges is excessive and that this has been approved without due consideration of the written protests and testimony of our local subscribers and official representatives and without cognizance of the fact that the Telephone Company offered no substantial evidence to support its claims of public demand and phoning practices, or to justify its arbitrary expansion of our (so-called) free calling areas."

Mayor Handingham said he was writing to all of the localities which originally protested to the PSC to determine their feeling on the question of joint action in an appeal of the PSC decision.

The mayor observed that April 11 is the final date for filing an appeal.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company had asked for an $8,250,000 increase in gross annual revenue. It received $6,048,900 despite the claim of Wilfred T. McQuaid, people's counsel before the PSC, that a $3,544,681 increase would provide the C&P a 6.1 per cent income on its investment.

Allegheny County's commissioners discussed the communication Friday, but took no action. Communities which protested the increase originally were Baltimore, Cumberland, Frostburg, Luke, Williamsport, Annapolis, Oakland, Delmar and Laurel as well as the Allegheny County commissioners.
